

LAST YEAR'S SKATING chorus line is shown here in a pinwheel figure. This year, despite the unpredictable weather, the Forum Night skating chorus line has been practicing regularly for the fourth annual Winter Carnival.

Hockey and Skating Show Features of Forum Night

As every year, a Forum Night will be one of the feature events of this year's Winter Carnival. The Night will take place on Friday, February 16 at 8:15 in the Forum.

This time, due to the introduction of a central theme and consequent speed-up in the skating show, the program will be somewhat shorter than in the past years.

The McGill hockey squad will be out to exact vengeance on the University of Montreal which scored a 5-4 victory in the last game. By defeating the U of M, the Redmen can bring back to McGill the Forum Night Trophy. Three Ex-QSHL Royals, Gord Knudson, Bobby Marchessault, and Lou Appleby will be fighting for McGill.

The figure skating performance will have a central theme, the trip to Paris by the winner in the Combined Charities Drive raffle. In an airplane crash, the winner will emerge from the wreckage, surrounded by a chorus of fifteen coeds. The scene will then shift to a cabaret setting and six couples will do one Continental and one Routine waltz. Andrea McLaughlin of Toronto's Minto Club will then be the featured skating star. Direction of the show is in the hands of Pat Harris who starred in this year's Red and White Revue.

In the intervals between numbers, the new McGill Band will present a number of tunes arranged especially for the occasion. Their closing selection is "Sleigh-ride", the Carnival theme song.

The climax of the evening will be the crowning of this year's Carnival Queen by Mayor Houde. The Queen will be selected by a campus-wide vote, but her identity will be kept secret until the crowning ceremony.

Nuptial Course To Be Given

A course designed especially for married couples, parents, and those preparing for marriage, is being sponsored by the Montreal Diocesan Theological College and the McGill Student, Christian Movement.

A fee of $2.50 entitles the student to attend a series of five Friday evening lectures and receive a complete set of mimeographed notes. Reverend W. J. Bishop will be chairman.

The series includes talks on "What is Christian Marriage?", "Psychological Necessities," "The Family and the Home," "Biological Foundations," and "The Family and Society." Registration forms should be sent to the Registrar, where further information may also be obtained.

The first lecture has already been held, the second will take place Feb. 9.

Success or Failure

Political Economy Students Hear de Kergourlay on Schuman Plan

The role played by internal forces in the development of the international policy of a country, with respect to the Schuman plan, was discussed by Roland de Kergourlay at a recent meeting of Political Economy students.

Mr. Kergourlay, a French citizen, is at present studying for his M.A. in Economics at Harvard University.

The role played by internal forces in the development of the international policy of a country, with respect to the Schuman plan, was discussed last night by Mr. Roland de Kergourlay, at a meeting of 17 Political Economy Students.

Speaking of the effect of the Schuman plan on Germany, France and the Benelux countries, he discussed the feasibility of the plan without major social and economic disruptions, and its beneficiality to all the countries concerned. He told the potential influence of the numerous internal pressures exerted inside the different countries upon the ultimate success or failure of the plan. Lastly, he discussed the influence of recent foreign developments on these internal pressure groups.

Mr. de Kergourlay told of the great variety of rates for coal and coke that existed at present in the western European countries. "The great advantages of the Schuman Plan, in the case of coal, can be better realized when the economics of a unified distribution system are brought to light. France has had to rely upon imports of German and Belgian coals for over half of its needs. This dependence upon the German metallurgical fuels has been one of the outstanding factors in the industrial development of France.

"Under the Schuman Plan the increased use of German coke in French mills would follow such a unification of the markets and would be further beneficial due to the better qualities of German coke."

He then discussed the advantages of the iron and steel industry with the acceptance of the Schuman Plan. He said "The pooling of the coal and steel productions of West-

Carnival Ball To Be Climax Of Festivities

To provide a fitting climax to the celebrations of the Carnival week-end, the Grand Carnival Ball is being planned for Saturday night, Feb. 17.

The Carnival Queen and her four attendants will be introduced at the Ball, the Queen will personally present the Snow Sculpture Trophy to the campus group that will have built the most original and successful model. The Ski Trophies, and the Skimaster Trophy for the best individual male skier, will be also presented at the Ball.

Music is to be provided by a fifteen-piece orchestra under the direction of the vocalist Art Hallman, who started his career with Mart Kenny's Canadian orchestra.

Decorations will emphasize the winter motif of the Carnival. Supervised by Audrey Capel and Judy Crawford, they will include a complete false ceiling of silver and blue, covered with blue and silver snowflakes and sprinkled with mica dust. On the stairs of the Gym and in the lobbies there will be murals done by the Fine Arts class. The Robert Simpson Co. have donated some of the winter decorations.

With the enlargement of the Gymnasium, tables can be set up at either end so that the dancers may have no difficulty in going to and from their tables. Ginger ale, ice and glasses will be provided for refreshment. The dance starts at 9 p.m.

Literary Prizes, French Society Meeting Topic

"The Literary Prizes in France Today" will be the topic of guest speaker Prof. Jean E. L. Launay, Professor of the French Language and Literature, Chairman of the Department of Romance Languages and Director of the French Summer School of McGill University on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 8, at 4 o'clock, in the clubroom, the members of the French society of McGill have announced.

Prof. Launay came to McGill in 1946 from the University of Rennes in France, where he was Professor of French Literature. In his talk he will discuss the origin and creation of such well-known literary prizes as the Prix Goncourt, Prix Femina, and others.

Prof. Launay will describe the manner of their distribution and evaluate the role they have played in encouraging new talents and assisting the development of the country's literature in general.

Athletic Administration Is Unsettled

UBC Receives Gift For Purchase of Electron Mike

Vancouver, B. C. — (CUP) — A ten thousand dollar donation for fighting poliomyelitis was given to the University of British Columbia by the Kinsmen clubs of British Columbia recently. The money will be used for the purchase of an electron microscope for research into polio and other serious diseases.

The $10,000 was raised by B.C.'s 52 Kinsmen clubs and presented through Kinsmen-sponsored Canadian Foundation of Poliomyelitis. Dr. C. R. Hallman, chairman of the provincial chapter of the foundation, made the presentation as an "initial step for the prevention rather than the cure of polio."

Kinsmen have been launching their "fight against polio" campaign for nearly six years. Past efforts have centered around the cure and rehabilitation of polio victims.

The delicate electron microscope has proved useful in the study of such diseases as polio, cancer, tobacco mosaic disease and again in the field of industry.

It may be used to judge the degree of resistance of nerve cells to polio. It is hoped that future tests will provide a means of building up resistance.

"People continually ask us why we fight a disease which causes such a low death-rate," Dr. Hallman said. "To answer that ask yourselves why policemen attempt to stop murder."

Hoopla Hop to Present Five Regal Candidates

The five candidates for Carnival Queen will make their official debut at the Hoopla Hop, Friday evening, in the Sir Arthur Currie Gymnasium.

"We are going to introduce these five lovely girls to the crowd at some point during the evening," said Ernie Papas, chairman of the event. "We feel that not only will this be an attraction for our affair but it will give the students their first chance to meet these beauties before having to vote for them."

For the first time in McGill's history a dance will be held following a basketball game. Friday's game between McGill and Western will decide first place position in the C.I.A.U. League. The entire evening is being called "Hoopla Hop" in honor of McGill's basketball teams.

The Escorts orchestra will supply their "Music of Distinction" from ten p.m. to one a.m. Jennie Masters, featured vocalist with the group will be on hand to supply the lyrics.

Combination basketball games and dances have been held at the University of Toronto and Western University. Each one of Toronto's affairs have had an attendance of over 4,000. "It is hoped that we will have as good a turn out as they have had at Toronto," said Alex Mayers, a member of the committee. "A good number of seats are being put up in order to accommodate the crowd we expect."

Refreshments will be available both during the game and at the dance. "We are doing our utmost to make this affair a success so that we may have more Hoopla Hops in the future," a committee member said.

Best Seller Author Van Paassen Will Address Students

Pierre Van Paassen, noted journalist and correspondent, will address the students of McGill and Sir George Williams College on the subject "The New Light on Zion's Hill." The event, sponsored by the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, will take place in the McGill Union Ballroom on Wednesday, February 14, at 8:00 p.m.

Mr. Van Paassen served with distinction in the British army during World War I. Afterwards, as a correspondent for the New York World, he travelled throughout Europe, Asia and Africa for nearly twenty years. He covered such events as the Pilsudski Putsch in Poland, and the rise of Mussolini in Italy and of Hitler in Germany.

On the basis of his study in Le-

ters and Theology, he received a doctorate from the Sorbonne. He is the author of such best sellers as "Days of Our Years," "That Day Alone," "The Forgotten Ally," and "Earth Could Be Fair," and has recently published "Jerusalem Calling."

Mr. Van Paassen has lectured on the European situation in every major city in the United States, and has contributed many articles to leading magazines, largely on the subject of international affairs. He is an ordained minister in the Unitarian Fellowship, a Doctor of Hebrew Letters and an honorary citizen of Tel Aviv.

Students of both McGill and Sir George Williams College are invited to attend.

MacLennan to Talk On "Moral Decision"

Interpretation of the relation of moral principles to the other ends of life is the end Prof. MacLennan, head of the Philosophy Department, will hold in view when he reads his paper titled "Moral Decision" before a meeting of the Philosophy Society this evening.

The kind of situation that involves moral decisions will be illustrated by examples of moral issues. Adequacy of moral decisions as guides to action in life will be questioned. What is the importance of education on personality development determining the capacity for making moral decisions?

The meeting is to be held at 8 p.m. this evening in the Divinity Hall Common Room. All staff members and students are invited to attend.

Author to Speak To Players Club

John Hoare, the well-known playwright and author will speak to the Players Club on Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the Club Room of the Union. The subject of his address will be "A Broader Understanding of the Theatre." This will be an open meeting of the Players Club and anyone interested is invited to attend.

Mr. Hoare has been closely associated with the theatre in many countries both as a playwright and director. He has recently published a book called "The Psychology of Playwriting" in which he deals with art of playwriting.

Meeting Delayed by Lack of Students Only Routine Issues Resolved

By ALLAN BERNFELD

Two hundred and seventy students, out of a possible seven thousand, gathered in the Union Ballroom yesterday noon for a meeting of the Student Society, and the Scarlet Key ushers were forced to canvass the lower storeys of the Union for others to make up the necessary three hundred-person quorum.

Because this quorum was not assembled until 1:40 p. m., and because the assembly started to disperse at 1:50, the meeting did not succeed in reaching any conclusions on the main items of business, which dealt with Student administration of athletics.

Two routine motions, which amended the Constitution of the Student Society to bring the wording up-to-date, were carried without opposition.

Next on the agenda was a constitutional amendment designed to make the elected Representative to the Athletics Board a voting member of the Student Executive Council. During discussion on this amendment, it was suggested that the SAC chairman, a student who is appointed to that position, should be made the athletics representative on the SEC. In reply, it was pointed out that the SAC chairman is not elected by the students, and therefore should not have an SEC vote.

The motion to give the athletics rep. an SEC vote was carried by a vote of 146 to 15. But this was invalidated when a count revealed that there was no longer a quorum present.

A further motion, advocating sweeping changes in the Student Athletics Council proper, was not brought up for discussion. This motion charged that the present Student Athletics Council is "an unwieldy and inefficient organization" inadequate for its purpose because of the tremendous expansion in athletics since it was first formed.

This motion, which was to have been moved by Edward Crawford, Med. Eng. 3, was designed to bring to open discussion the present Athletics setup. But the meeting, which, in effect, lasted for only fifteen minutes, had no time to entertain this discussion.

So the students, if individual in all other respects, remain uniform in their attitude toward Student Society meetings: the meetings are handy things to stay away from.

NFCUS to Have Permanent Office At Carleton

Ottawa, Ont. — (CUP) — National Federation of Canadian University Students will have its first permanent office at Carleton College in Ottawa, it was announced recently.

The decision to establish a permanent office was reached at the NFCUS Conference held in Quebec City last September. An increase in fees, from six to twenty cents, was decided upon to meet the costs of an established headquarters.

They will have a temporary office in the College from January 15 until next fall when the COTC office moves out of the Union. At that time they will rent an office on the second floor of the Students' Union.

NFCUS has previously hoped to take up office in the Students' Union of Ottawa University which was to be expected in May. This plan was shelved when Ottawa University announced that they were not able to rebuild as planned.

The office which will house the permanent secretary treasurer of NFCUS will probably be leased for $10 monthly to cover the cost of lighting, telephone facilities and cleaning.

Next fall the COTC will move into the large front room of the present library and will leave three rooms vacant in the Union. NFCUS will take over one of these offices paying a small token fee to the Students' Council.

Queen's Gaelic Yell Originator Dies in Toronto

Kingston, Ont. — (CUP) — The inventor of Queen's Gaelic yell, Dr. Alfred Edward Lavell, died recently at his home in Toronto. A Queen's graduate, Dr. Lavell was former provincial historian and an outstanding authority on reform institutions.

Following graduation from Queen's University, he was ordained a minister of the Methodist Church at Victoria College. He held pastorates in Walsh, Ayr, Norwich, Waterloo, Niagara Falls and Brantford. Dr. Lavell served as a chaplain in the First World War and went overseas in 1916 with the 125th Battalion. He held the rank of major and was invalid home after service in Europe and Macedonia. He was appointed senior chaplain of Saskatchewan.

Dr. Lavell came to Toronto in 1918 and was appointed executive secretary of the Ontario Board of Parole. From 1931 to 1935 he was provincial historian and was the author of books on Ontario educational, medical and penal institutions.

Cats Versus Rats

Minnie & Mickey, Busy Mousers Refuse Interview with Reporter

By ANGELA HENNESSY

Two weeks ago, a golden-haired cocker spaniel invaded Moyses Hall and listened to Professor Phelps lecture on John Milton. He perked up his ears and scratched furiously at the mention of R.V.C. Now, the Daily has learned of the existence of cats in the Biology Building! "What next?" you ask.

By this time, surprised at nothing which could happen at McGill, I went up to find out their reason for being there.

Janitor "Bill" Robertson greeted me with a smile and started telling me about his pets, Minnie and Mickey—"But wait, may be you'd like to see them," he interrupted himself. He took me around the corner to the locker room, and sure enough, there was Minnie reclining luxuriously on top of one of the lockers. At first, she played possum, and would not open her eyes but when she saw that we were not going to leave without an interview, she opened one eye and said: "Please, Bill, tell the reporter that I'm very tired, and can't talk to her just now." (She is usually a very polite cat.)

I didn't want to miss my chance, so I started firing questions: "How long have you been here?" "Who is Mickey?" "Why are you here?" "Why are you so tired?" "Please, please one question at a time, young lady! I've lived here five years, raised my children like a good mother should, held down a good steady job, and now I think I should get some respect! This younger generation!"

I wanted to ask her what her "good steady job" was but Minnie closed her eye again, so I asked Bill. He told me that five years ago he had had trouble with rats. Poison hadn't helped, neither had traps. So as a last resort, he had bought Minnie. He added that Minnie and her son Mickey are the best rat-catchers for many miles around.

Well now I had my information so I turned to go. I said "good afternoon" to Minnie but she wouldn't answer me. I guess she was tired. But after all, wouldn't you be, too?

When a Dog Bites a Man

If a dog bites a man, says the textbook, it's news. What is news is when a man bites a dog. Under this criterion, today's front page headlines have no business being there at all, for they tell a not unexpected story and only serve to underline some hard and obvious facts about the operation of this University's Students' Society. A usual performance by the student body results in a usual story in The Daily, and it all makes very dull reading indeed. But since the textbook also says it is the function of a newspaper honestly to reflect the community it serves, the headlines can seek some unhappy justifications.

Although yesterday's Students' Society meeting was called for one o'clock, it was not until a half hour later that the three hundred students necessary for a quorum had been assembled, and that number was obtained only after the young ladies of the Red Wing Society had lured a number of students away from their pursuits in the Union Pool Room and Cafeteria. For the next fifteen minutes, while two minor constitutional amendments were being carried, the quorum was maintained. But before the major business before the Society could be considered, a number of students straggled out, presumably back to the Pool Room and Cafeteria, and the meeting was dissolved.

The important question of whether the student organizations which handle athletics on the campus are presently constituted to operate as efficiently as might be desired remains unsettled. Plans of the Students' Executive Council to have the elected representative to the Athletics Board sit as one of their number were frustrated. It is evident that the student body knows very little about either proposition, and cares less.

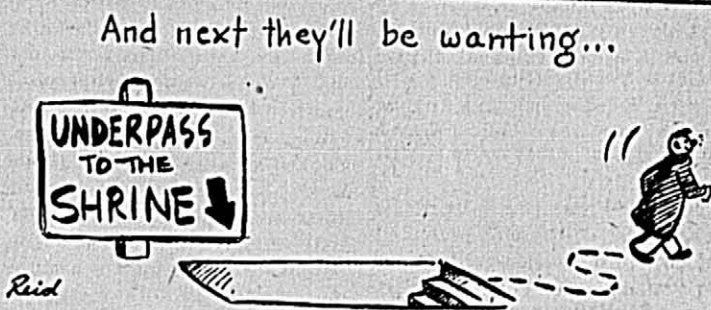

At the SEC meeting Tuesday night, when the question of raising a quorum to pass the important, if routine, constitutional changes was discussed, it strenuously was argued that the Carnival Queen candidates should be introduced at the end rather than at the beginning of the Society meeting, so that the necessary number of students would "hang on." When the proper functioning of student government is seen as depending on the appearance or non-appearance of five beautiful girls, things are in a pretty bad way. JMS

Notes On The Artist

By J. J. Dymont

The Gazette has its Collins, the Herald has its Duggan, the McGill Daily has its Reid. In the last two years, Ed Reid, fourth year Arts student, has created over seventy-five cartoons and sketches depicting Campus life. No sooner does a controversial issue hit the campus, than Ed can be seen busily preparing his satire on it; a satire that will bring laughs to thousands of bored students. An example of this is the cartoon "The Radical's Day", which appears at the left. This was created at a time when the L.P.P. club was not permitted to hold its meetings in the Union and is a satire on the exaggerated ideas some people had concerning radicals on the campus. This newspaper refused to print it until a year later when this feeling had calmed a mite. Even then one student took a very serious view of the cartoon and warned in a letter to the Editor that this sort of thing could lead to "purges, bloodshed, all forms of hatred, and every other hideous channel through which human energy can be poured." Furthermore it "can be used to justify fascist actions."

Actually Ed Reid is a pleasant sort of a chap who at 15 was engaged in the very lucrative enterprise of drawing and selling caricatures of his High School teachers. Later he won a couple of ships from the Montreal Association which induced him to leave.

Tissenbaum, Merling, Scoring, Leaders In Mediocre Basketball Encounter

By RUBE BRESSLER

McGill captured the M.B.L. crown last night, downing Sir George by a 61-45 score. The game was somewhat of a sloppy affair which looked like a fight at times. The contest might be characterized in two phases. The first half, at whose conclusion McGill held a slim 31-25 lead, ran at a dreary turtle's pace featuring inept ball handling, wild passing and mediocre shooting. The second half was a mad scramble of unpatterned play; but at a faster pace.

Bouncing Ben Tissenbaum

Bouncing Ben Tissenbaum raced all over the floor in the first half to pile up ten points on a variety of shots. He had the bounce of a rabbit and grabbed a good share of rebounds. The McGill forwards, however, kept feeding the ball out of bounds. At times the game looked like a McGill target practice session. In the first eight minutes of the encounter, Thompson of the Georgians accounted for eight of the nine of his team's points. They were accomplished on long set shots. He got a game high total of 14 points. Tolchinsky was used at center and Merling at forward when the two appeared in the game at the same time.

Tol was free due to his manoeuvres in the keyhole, the team was playing with the ball on the outside. It was the same story throughout the contest. Poor utilization of the bucketman led to a disordered pattern of inside play.

COLLEGE CRAFT WINNERS

Three students added that part of $10 to their billfolds as a result of their pinpointing of the score in last night's MBL Basketball Contest. All three, it was noticed, are regular contestants and their perseverance really paid off.

The winners are S. Sual, E. Luterman, and M. Jason. Congratulations! You can pick up your share of the prize today at College Craft Clothes.

The Georgians best display was a run of seven points in the final minutes of the first half. These were recorded by Goldberg and McFall. The sole McGill reply was a foul shot by Tolchinsky.

The first part of the second half was fairly even. McGill led 41-36 at this point. Then Tissenbaum, fed Caldwell on a break for a score and the dam broke. McGill then garnered 20 points to the Georgians nine. Jim Mitcheener and Dave Caldwell contributed six points each, while Merling got four in this run of points. A 15-point lead was attained seven minutes from the end and McGill finished 16 ahead.

At times the McGill squad seemed to be playing with an air of complete disdain. The checks they posted weren't put to a test due to a poor driving Georgian squad. Kis of the George William team managed to score all his 10 points in the second half. For McGill, Cheldon Merling, playing a stronger rebound game, gathered 12 points to come in behind Tissenbaum's 13 for the point honors. Caldwell got nine.

Redmen Set Eyes On Fencing Titles

By BOB BORNSTEIN

All the world loves a winner and McGill has another possible titleholder in the ranks. The fencing team, which has been preparing in workman-like fashion for the intercollegiate meet with Toronto at the 'Gym Saturday, Feb. 17, has a good chance of dethroning the Blues, who have held the championship for the last two years.

These unsung heroes, under the tutelage of George Tully, a former Olympic star who has been McGill fencing coach for eight years, have developed to such an extent that Coach Tully is highly optimistic about his team's chances in the coming meet. He also feels that the Red and White fencers have the necessary talent to capture all three of the titles given each season in fencing.

Besides the intercollegiate championship, there is the individual intercollegiate championship won by McGill last year, and a special trophy given for skill style and sportsmanship.

As a farm-up for the big meet with Toronto, the team will travel to Canton, N.Y. Friday to take part in the St. Lawrence University Winter Carnival Coach Tully has decided to use a six man team in this meet and is hopeful of avenging the defeat inflicted on his charges by St. Lawrence last year.

The six men making the trip are: Bernie Gordon, Peter Eakins, Ted Reid, Jerry McCaughey, Henry von Rumer, Fischel Kurtz and Hy Reiser. Of this group four have been picked to represent McGill against Toronto. They are: Gordon, Reid, McCaughey and Eakins.

This quartet was chosen on the basis of the intramural tournament held last Thursday. Three new McGill fencing champions were crowned in this tournament. Gordon won the sabre championship, Reid, the foil title, and Eakins, the epee crown.

Gordon is captain of the team and was a member of last year's squad. Reid, in his first year at the University, was a member of Columbia.

Former Redmen to Attend Puck Party

Some famous names in McGill's hockey history, will return to the ice lanes again. Only this time, the former greats with the Redmen won't be chasing the rubber disc with the hickory sticks. They are just turning out for a friendly skating session, planned at the McGill ring 8:30 Friday night, to revive interest in the hockey picture generally at the Old School.

'Ricky' Robillard, who is looking after arrangements for the skating party said he expects to see such noted stars of yesterday as Dr. Hollie McHugh, 'Boo' Anderson, Bob McLennan, Ronnie Perowne, Ken Farmer, Hugh Farquharson, Tommy Robertson, Bill Carsley, Dr. Bruce Ward, Andy Aron and many others.

Redmen Aiming to Trip Western In Bid for Hoop Championship

Paris Trip Is Central Theme of Figure Skating Performance

By LEN WISSE

The majority of people will agree that if the McGill Redmen are to win their first senior intercollegiate basketball title since 1934 the team they will have to beat out for the crown is the 1951 edition of the Western Mustangs.

At this point, with the "big game" — the one in which these two teams meet for the first time this season — just two days away it might be well to analyse these Mustangs.

The Mustangs, to date, have played 11 games including two intercollegiate contests. They have won six of these. They have scored a total of 582 points for a game average of 52.9 while they have had 640 scored against them for 58.1 per game.

Six of these games were against American opposition. They have only one of the six. They have a perfect record against Canadian opponents.

The team's top scorer during these eleven contests has been Bob Philbbs. Philbbs, over whose head has raged a great deal of controversy in recent weeks, has scored 125 points for an average of 11.4 per game. In connection with the dispute as to Philbbs' eligibility for intercollegiate play, he was given a clean bill of health by the CIAU on Tuesday, and ruled fully eligible.

Second to Philbbs on the squad is big Harry Wade who has scored 105 points in the 11 games to date. This amounts to an average of 9.6 markers per game.

Scanning the rest of the lineup line finds however no scores to match the records of Philbbs and Wade. Captain George Arndt has scored 70 points in ten games. Noel Clark has 52 in ten, rookie Ray Truant 38 in the same number of tilts.

Juniors Victorious In Intramural Meet

Undergraduate and graduate mermaids dove into the crystal blue waters to help their respective years in the race for the intramural championship last night in the memorial pool. For the second consecutive time this year, the third year students won hands down over their nearest rivals, the sophomores.

Led by swimming captain Audrey Wipper, Earla Taylor, Dorothy Piddock, Pat Rowe and Margaret Patterson, the third year women garnered a total of 47 points, 29 more than the runners-up. Lynn Bowering and Pat Rowe earned the highest individual scores of the evening, each with 2 first places and one second, for a total of 13.

By virtue of their win, second year gained 50 points in the intramural total pointage, while the juniors were awarded 25, and to the third place freshtette year, represented solely by Lynn Bowering, were attributed 10.

Piddock, Rowe and Patterson battled it out in the 50 yard breast event. All three are third year students, and by the end of this opening race, the girls had 8 points to their credit. Piddock easily won top slot in 35.4 seconds, but second and third places were closely contested by Rowe and Patterson respectively.

Bowering's gliding breast-stroke led her to victory in the 50 yard race, and minutes later she edged out Audrey Wipper in the 50 yard back event. This marked Audrey's first attempt at competitive swimming since her neck injury.

In the 50 yard junior breast-stroke event, Taylor touched the pool's gutter a fraction of a second ahead of Bowering; in fact, she almost equalled Bowering's previous record of 41.2 seconds, by accomplishing the yardage in a 41.4 time.

A friendly feud developed between the juniors and grads during the 100 yard free style medley relay, in which the former coasted

Down 'Y' Blues For City Title

The McGill 'Red' Basketball 'squad downed the YWCA 'Blues' last night, by a 52-25 score, and in so doing, capped the championship in the Senior Section of the Women's Open Basketball League.

McGill matched the 'Y' basket for basket in a closely fought first quarter, but from then on, the Reds took over and established a good margin which they never relinquished. Jean Machan was high scorer for McGill with 19 points. Incidentally, 'Mac' is also leading scorer for the season, having accounted for 78 points in 6 games. Wendy Cleugh sank 10 points and was continually setting up plays for her teammates, while Jane Thompson scored on some very long shots for a total of 9 markers.

Christie Brown, Gerda Thomas, and Isobel Irwin held the opponents off on several occasions by some fine guarding.

At the close of the game the 'Martlet Trophy,' symbolic of League Championship was presented to the McGill captain, Isobel Irwin. Last night marked the first time that this trophy, donated by the MWSAA for annual competition, was awarded.

To an easy win. The 75 yard individual medley saw Alfreda Redgell and Audrey Wipper competing. Both girls were just about neck and neck until the crawl length when Alfreda gained considerable ground over her opponent.

Pat Rowe won the comedy race, followed by Piddock, in an event where the swimmers were permitted to use only their arms. Rowe won her third first place slot in the 50 yard back-stroke, and minutes later, the Taylor, Rowe, and Piddock trio raced to victory in the 150 yard medley, although Redgell made a gallant attempt for her second year group.

'Collegiate Rifle Contest Held Soon

The women's rifle club has been most active during the past few weeks. Last Thursday evening, February 1, the girls were scheduled to shoot a match against the McGill C.O.T.C. team. While waiting for the men to arrive, the women were challenged to a shoot by some members of the McGill Rifle and Pistol Club who were present in the range at that particular time. Oddly enough, the co-eds easily downed their brothers by a 788 to 750 score.

The girls did not fare so well, however, in their match with the C.O.T.C. After each member of the 7-man team had fired ten shots, the girls found themselves on the wrong end of a 456-453 result.

More competition is in the offing for the near future. The intercollegiate match must be shot by February 15, so that McGill's scores may be forwarded to the other universities that are competing in the event. Later on the girls will participate in the P.Q.R.A. ladies' team match for the Province of Quebec Championship.

On March 31, a team comprised of women, 19 years and under, will enter the C.C.A.M. junior competition.

Finally, there is still the intra-

Belgian Students Consider College Conditions in Europe

By DON ALLEN

The students, subjects and extra-curricular activities of the universities of Europe and Canada were compared and contrasted by the Belgian sisters Marguerite and Francoise Puvrez at a luncheon meeting of the Cosmo Club in the Union on Tuesday.

The girls, who are now enrolled at McGill, received much of their earlier education in their native Belgium.

The longer academic year, a less selective course of study, less extra-curricular activities of an organized nature, and more oral and less written examinations were the main differences that they noted between McGill and the Universities on the continent.

The length of the college year is considered longer in Europe, they noted. Lectures begin in September and the last examination may not have been completed by the following August. Because of the long terms, the sisters commented, summer jobs are usually out of the question.

Oral examinations are favored in Belgian universities. There are essays and mathematical problems, but much of the grading of the students is based on oral questioning. At graduation there are no Convocation ceremonies; the student stops in at the registrar's office and picks up his diploma shortly after his last examination.

There is no form of student government but, when feeling among undergraduates becomes sufficiently strong, petitions are circulated on the campus. There are no organized athletics although students organize or form teams when there is sufficient interest.

Their references, the sisters explained, were mainly to the University of Brussels, with which they were most familiar. Referring to it as "a university of free thought" they said that any student that met with the academic requirements was admitted. Various religious groups were represented and theological discussions frequently arose among the students.

An undergraduate frequently takes ten or twelve subjects in each year of his academic course. They said that this was somewhat counteracted by the longer college term but that "bookworms" definitely were not looked down upon.

The University was closed by the Nazis during the war years when light, then public opinion would rally and rationalize and no government would go against it.

Dean Fieldhouse said that the United Nations, although it puts all its emphasis on a central machine, is not apt instrument to combat a future war. It is founded on the views that aggression always comes from Germany and Japan and that the Big Five would always pull together. In 1943, Fieldhouse concluded, this was upset by the Russian veto.

Mr. Kergoulay concluded by giving the opinions of the government, industrialists and unions of France to this plan. It put into effect, the Schuman Plan would unify the industrial resources of Western Europe, and France would be one of the main countries concerned.

"The question of re-armament forced into the fore by the rapid worsening of the world situation has greatly reduced the chances of success of the Plan," he said. "In supposing, that for the best there is no open conflict in Europe for the years to come, the tension, both economic and social, created by the obligation to re-arm, will push the Schuman Plan somewhat into the background of the people's minds."

However dynamic the personalities of the planners may be it appears highly doubtful whether it will have a fate different from that of other attempts at integration."

art lessons which he did until his second year at McGill. Then, as a crowning achievement to a brilliant career, he joined the staff of The Daily who have engaged him without pay ever since.

It should be mentioned at this point that Leonardo Da Vinci was also known for his caricatures. Furthermore the cartoonists "Giles" and David Lowe have a definite effect on formulating public opinion. We are not necessarily suggesting that our staff artist is much better than these gentlemen, but it can be duly noted that not only is "Red" known for his caricaturing BUT ALSO for his effect on public opinion.

Hospital Tour and Film Announced For Pre-Meds

Pre-Medical Students will see two films today at the meeting of their society at 5 p.m. in Room 250 of the Biology Building.

At the meeting, opportunity will be given for students to sign up for a tour of the Royal Victoria Hospital which is to take place on Saturday Feb. 17, at 1:30 p.m. Members are also reminded of the pins which are on sale. In order to obtain these, payments must be made in advance to the treasurer at the meeting tomorrow. The men's pins cost $1.10 while those designed for the female members are $1.20 each.

On Feb. 22, Dr. Hans Selye, famed endocrinologist and Director of the Institute of Experimental Medicine and Surgery at the University of Montreal, will address the society.

"It is very important that pre-medical students of all years should get acquainted with the activities of the society, and take advantage of the tours, films, and other meetings," said Colin Forbes, president of the society. "In this way, they will be able to learn more about the profession which they intend to enter."

EUS to Sponsor Gen Nite—Staff to Answer Questions

To acquaint Engineering students with the intricacies of their chosen profession the Engineering Undergraduate Society is sponsoring an Engineers Gen Nite at 4 p.m. today in the Engineering Building, Room 330.

Chairmen of the various departments of the Engineering faculty will be present to give short talks on their branches, the possibilities they offer and the requirements they impose upon the prospective Engineer. A question period will follow to help straighten out and clarify any points raised by the students.

The speakers will be Prof. Jamson for the Civil department, Prof. Phillips for Chemical, Prof. Wallace for Electrical, Dr. Robb for the Mechanical, Prof. Morrison for the Mining and Metallurgical Department. Several other speakers will also be present.

Refreshments will be served.

mon as soon as he dons the blades. Harry neither asks for nor gives any quarter. According to reports from Quebec, Harry was jumped by four Laval men in a corner on Tuesday, precipitating a free for all. From what we hear Harry really lit into those guys and taught them a thing or two.

Bobby Marchessault, the one-time Royal, also came in for a lion's share of the praise in Saturday night's tussle. Bob has been getting better and better as the season wears on and is now just about at his peak. Ditto Brian (Third Man) O'Neil.

Dave Campbell, genial Redmenor was exuberant over the showing of Robertson, Appleby, and Zemel, three of his blue line stalwarts. According to observers at the game on Tuesday, these three turned in their best games of the year. It seems that Dave has his boys really rolling now and they are looking forward with a vengeance to next week's tilt with U of M.

HERE AND THERE

Congratulations to Gord Knutson and Ron Robertson on their election as Co-captains of the Redmen. What's this we hear about a fellow from Springfield College being considered as coach for next year's team? What's the matter with hometown talent? Let's be smart about this.

Is confrere Al Schmeltzer trying out a new Dale Carnegie course in "How To Win Friends and Influence People"? That head on yesterday's basketball advance isn't calculated to make friends of our less fortunate colleagues at Sir George.

COMMERCEials

By JOHN CUNNINGHAM and BILL LAWAND

Greetings Commerce!

The big news in the School of Commerce this week is the revival of the annual Commerce Banquet. The banquet promises to be quite an affair with Pete Desjardins, social chairman of the C.U.S., handling all the details. The tickets are obtainable from the various class presidents for 75 cents each. This price is very reasonable considering the fact that those attending will receive, in addition to a full course meal, one quart of beer each and free cigarettes. The guest speaker will be Mr. Monge, secretary-treasurer of the International Paper Company of Canada, who will discuss Canada's pulp and paper industry, with special references to opportunities open in the industry for Commerce Graduates. In addition a number of professors will be present.

After many set-backs, the C.U.S. has obtained a suitable tie for Commerce. It is in regimental style with a dark blue background cut diagonally by alternate red and silver stripes. The red stripe is for McGill and the silver stripe is for Commerce. We are told that these ties look terrific when worn with a blazer or with any sports coat combination. They will go on sale at the Union from March 1-9, from 1 p.m. to 1:50 each.

Elections for the new executive of the Commerce Undergraduate Society will be held later this month. The executive of the C.U.S. play a most important part in the tempt to create some hockey interest amongst the grads.

In conclusion we'd like to wish Coach Moe Abramowitz and his boys all the best in their Friday battle with Western. We've been waiting a long time and this looks like the year.

Red Men Aiming—p. 3

championship. Thus far, however, the big pivotman has turned in only one good game. That was against Canisius College when McNichol starred in a losing cause.

In interpreting this statistical data one cannot but be struck by the fact that Western has once more a strong, well balanced squad. They possess height in McNichol and Wade, a continual scoring threat in Philbbs and a great play-maker in George Arnott. Coupled with all these factors, Metras has promising rookies in Truant and Clark.

Yet despite all this there are many who feel that here at McGill coach Moe Abramowitz has the team that will return the Wilson Trophy to Montreal after a 17 year absence.

In comparing the starting line-ups of the two teams the McGill quintet of Tolchinsky, Merling, Tissenbaum, Caldwell and Endman has a slight edge in scoring.

Again, the Redmen in 19 games have a better record defensively than the Londoners, while their offensive records are almost even. These latter facts do not mean a great deal. One thing they do point to however is that Friday's game, the feature attraction of the Hoopla Hop, in any case should be one of the best between these teams in years.

CO-ED CLIPPINGS

By Elizabeth Sumner

A talk on the "Psychological Aspects of Marriage" will be given by Dr. B. Raginsky next Tuesday night in the Women's Union Lecture Series. The lecture will be given in the R.V.C. Common Room commencing at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Raginsky spoke in the lecture series last year, and because of the popularity of his talk, has been asked to speak again this year. Angela Christensen is the Convenor of this event.

Co-eds still have until Friday to order their class pins through the Women's Union. The pins range in price from $1.00 to $2.30. Samples of the pins may be seen in the Women's Union Office in R.V.C. and pins can be ordered there between 1 and 2:30 p.m. today.

A new coke machine is expected to be installed in the basement of R.V.C. before next Monday. It will be placed outside the cafeteria, near the telephone booth and stamp machine.

A Fashion Show will be held in the Union Ballroom on Tuesday, Feb. 27 at 3:15. Spring clothes will be featured, and Morgan's have consented to co-ordinate the show. Nancy Wilson is the chairman. More details about the show next week.

Congratulations to Marilyn Goldman as the first winner of the Women's Union Oratory Shield. Congratulations also to the runners-direction of extra-curricular activities for the Commerce student. The sweaters for the hockey, volleyball and basketball teams have arrived and the various team members may obtain them by inquiring at the gymnasium, Congratulations to the Commerce "A" Hockey team who beat the Daily Types by the lop-sided score of 11-0.

The Industrial tours, which continued this week with a trip to Steinberg's, will be cancelled next week owing to the McGill Winter Carnival. However, it is planned to visit either C.I.L. or Seagram's Distillery the succeeding week. Those who attended the Canada Packers Limited tour not only saw a great deal of the various meat packing processes but the actual slaughtering of the steers, and the dis-assembly line.

The following definitions appeared in last year's Daily, but we think they are worthy of repetition. They attempt to describe a typical Engineer and an Accountant from each others point of view. First the engineers description of the typical accountant: the typical accountant is a man past middle age, spare, wrinkled and intelligent. He is passive, non-committal, with eyes like a cod fish, polite in contact but at the same time unresponsive. He is always as calm and damnably composed as a concrete post, a human petrification with a heart of feldspar. He is without the charm of a friendly grin, passion or a sense of humor. Happily they never reproduce and all of them finally go to hell.

Now let us consider the typical accountants opinion of the typical engineer: the typical engineer is a large full-blooded enthusiast, a cigar smoker with a Y.M.C.A. secretary's smile. He talks in astronomical figures and aghors detail. His limit of accuracy is plus or minus $5,000,000.00, and he brags if he keeps within these limits. He is the despair of auditors, only exceeded in this respect by social workers. Happily he is a mule without pride of ancestry or hope of posterity and goes to an early grave cheerily waving his cherished slide rule, mourned by none and remembered only by his creditors.

Well, that's about all for this week, see you at the banquet!

SEC Approval—Film Unit Works On Major Project

McGill's newly constituted Film Unit will hold its first regular meeting in the Ballroom of the Union at one p.m. today. The meeting will discuss minor items of club business and make plans to get production units and screen testing groups into operation.

This is the first meeting of the Unit since the Students' Council approved its constitution Tuesday night. The Club executive intends to form preliminary plans for its activities for the rest of the year pending full SEC support.

These plans include work on the Unit's major production. There has already been work done on the project which centres about the theme "What McGill Means to Me." It is hoped that this will go into production later this spring or early next year.

Before going to work on the larger project, the Film Unit intends to divide into smaller production Units consisting of Producer, Director, Photographer and various other technical assistants. These smaller Units will work together in covering some particular aspect of campus life. This it has been pointed out, will serve a double purpose.
